Convection is the heat transfer due to the bulk movement of molecules within fluids such as gases and liquids, including molten rock . Convection includes sub-mechanisms of advection (directional bulk-flow transfer of heat), and diffusion (non-directional transfer of energy or mass particles along a concentration gradient).

Heat pipes are recognised as one of the most efficient passive heat transfer technologies available. A heat pipe is a structure with very high thermal conductivity that enables the transportation of heat whilst maintaining almost uniform temperature along its heated and cooled sections.

Fresh analysis of government scientific records reveals the idea of 'long-settled' science in the greenhouse gas theory is a myth. The claim human emissions of carbon dioxide (CO₂) acts as a control knob on climate only appeared in consensus science since the 1980's. Prior to that time, official records show the theory as "abandoned."

The cause of the trend is a puzzle. Physics demands that water expand as its temperature increases. But to keep the rate of rise constant, as observed, expansion of sea water evidently must be offset by something else.
