3.2 The national curriculum is just one element in the education of every child. There is time and space in the school day and in each week, term and year to range beyond the national curriculum specifications. The national curriculum provides an outline of core knowledge around which teachers can develop exciting and stimulating lessons to promote the development of pupils' knowledge ...

The national curriculum in England

Curriculum programmes with strong coursework components or modular tests were offered, effective school monitoring systems for tracking pupil progress were in place, peer-support and more feedback and praise. Use of a range of in-class grouping arrangements to promote active pupil engagement with their learning and to encourage focused oral participation were employed. Teachers constructed a ...
